

Abstract

For a compact tractor, a composite molded plastic floor and fender structure is supported on a chassis of the vehicle. The floor and fender
5 structure includes a foot supporting region, a seat supporting region and two fenders all formed of a composite RIM plastic material. The unitary floor and fender structure simplifies manufacture of the tractor as well as providing a lightweight, durable structure.